of the Lod massacre by a 22-year-old security guard, as told to POST Reporter Yitzhak Oked.

HAD just finished entering incoming plane AF-132 in the ledger at 10.25, when I suddenly Transferrer Us Transferrer Us Transferrer Us Transferrer Us Curituba es heard a burst of fire. My first reac-tion was to shout "Eli!" (my part-ner, whom I had given a little break because he said he break account he sam he was hungry). I was sitting on the bridge overlooking the large customs hall, I immediately ran down the steps, Was which gave me a little cover.

I could see two Oriental-looking people, both very small, and both dressed in identical dark blue suits. They were standing next to the convergor which was feeding the suitcases into the customs hall. One of the two men was shooting windly at the people in the crowded customs hall, He had just fed a new cho of suffers into his rifle. Seeing that nearly all the people in the hall series now lying on the floor, he thered his Kalachnikov to the right, in a reaper's sweep. In doing so, he accidentally killed his partner who was in the line of fire. He her was now facing a tightly-packed group of people waiting for their relatives. There was only a farge giass partition between them. He quite coldly shot at them point blank. Some of the bullets hit the Tourism Ministry information stand, at a distance of more than 200m.

At about this time, the Japanese who was firing the Kalachnikov stopped his firing and lobbed a hand-grenade. It hit a wall not far from him and rolled back a little way

Of course there is an Opposition, even in the smoke-filled backrooms of the internal councils. Brezhnev has his Pyotr Shalast, Nixon has his John Ashbrook.

But Shalast, the Ukrainian party boss who stamped his jackboot on Dubcek's "Socialism with a human face" in Prague, has an ongoing feud with Brezhnev. He counts less than the generals, and there is no sign that they are in revolt.

TEL AVIV. — Histadrut Secretary-General Yitzhak Ben-Aharon yesterday urged the free labour movement and organized air trans-port workers to help "prevent the recurrence of mass murder of innocent passengers and aviation workers by inhuman criminals."

Sending cables to the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions and the International Federation of Aviation Workers, representing tens of millions of organized workers in 90 countries, Mr. Ben-Aharon declared ... "A government and a national airline did not meet their obligations towards their passengers, and thereby enabled criminals to and thereby enabled criminals to eningly brutal mass munder at convey weapons and sabotage mate. ## Law fees should be subject to appeal - Shapiro

Jerusalem Post Knesset Reporter Justice Minister Ya'acov Shimshon Shapiro said late Tuesday night that the Inquiry Commissions Law should be amended to make lawyers' fees subject to outside approval or appeal. He would not say, at this juncture, whether he believed such legislation should be retroactive to cover the Witkon Commission fees week.

Speaking to the Alignment Knesset faction, where severe criticism voiced on the high fees was paid to the lawyers involved in the Netivel Neft affair, Mr. Shapiro objected to having a governmental or parliamentary body approve such lawyers' fees, but suggested that the right of appeal be tabled in the Knesset). vested in the Supreme Court.

The Minister rebuffed criticism of Justice Ministry Director-General Zvi Terlo for the ertteria on fees which Mr. Terlo had submitted to the Witkon Commission. The Justice Minister said he himself assumed fall responsibility for these cri-

Mr. Shapiro deplored Mr. Yitzhak Navon's criticism of Supreme Court Justice Alfred Witkon, revealing that he had received a letter from the Justice explaining the "festival" epithet Mr. Witkon used to describe the inquiry.

By DAVID LENNON Jarusalem Post Reporter

The Ministry of Tourism has instructed its office in New York to send an official to Puerto Rico to bring condolences to the families of the tourists killed and injured in the Lod massacre Tourism Minister Moshe Kol told The Jerusalem Post yesterday.

The Ministry is also ascertaining from the families of the deceased, through the U.S. Embassy, where they wish their relatives to be buried. If they decide to have them buried here, in the Holy Land, the Ministry will make the necessary arrangements, and will bear the ex-penses of the burials, he said. Mr. Kol also noted that the Ministry would bear the cost of flying th coffins back to Puerto Rico, if that was the wish of the families.
